

Michelle Mendoza

Michelle Mendoza is the product manager for Setra Systems Critical Environment solutions. She has a background in both process engineering and marketing and enjoys working on product development at Setra. In light of the COVID-19 pandemic, she has worked on several resources and products related to the use of negative pressure isolation in both hospitals and non-traditional healthcare spaces, including long-term care facilities. Michelle lives with her fiancé in Massachusetts, where they enjoy golfing, board games, and playing pickleball.
